

Christine is a second-year student at KU Medical Center. Prior to attending PT school, Christine spent 6 years in the Health and Wellness field working with a variety of people but specifically the geriatric and military population. It was in these roles that she found her passion of physical therapy. Christine is passionate about creating an environment where all people are heard and feel seen. As she progresses in her career, she wants to advocate for the physical therapy profession and people that are notoriously underserved. As a member of the student board, she hopes to start that advocacy work now. In her free time, she loves to be outdoors and is an avid runner.