

Jennifer Celso, PT, MPT,DPT, PhD, Board Certified Clinical Specialist in Women's Physical Therapy

Dr. Celso is a Kansas Licensed Physical Therapist since 2001 and is a Board-Certified Women's Health Specialist through the American Physical Therapy Association's Board of Physical Therapy Specialties. Jennifer earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Health Service, Organization, and Policy in 1999 followed by a master's degree in physical therapy in 2001 from Wichita State University. She completed her Doctor of Physical Therapy Degree from Northeastern University in Boston, MA in 2009 and a PhD in 2023 from Texas Women's University in Dallas, Texas. She is the Assistant Program Director and Teaching Professor for the Department of Physical Therapy at Wichita State University, where she teaches differential diagnosis, manual therapy, and all women's health curriculum. Dr. Celso has also been a lead teaching assistant for Herman & Wallace Pelvic Rehab Institute since 2011 which has allowed her to further educate numerous graduates and colleagues in the specialty of pelvic floor rehabilitation. Jennifer owned a private women's health practice from 2012-2019 and now practices at Summit Physical Therapy in Wichita, Kansas. Dr. Celso served on the APTA Kansas Board of Directors as the Treasurer for three terms from 2013-2019 and as travelled to the Leadership Conference in Washington, DC as an alternate delegate in 2023. She serves her profession and teaches with passion and commitment and values new personal learning opportunities and professional development.