

Denise Bruschi, PT, CMPT received her MSPT from the University of Kansas in 2002. She began her career in private practice physical therapy in Washington state where she earned a manual therapy certification from the North American Institute of Orthopedic Manual Therapy (NAIOMT) and became a certified Clinical Instructor (CI). While in Washington, she was an active member of the PTWA and participated in business meetings, state conferences, and legislative days. She represented the profession of physical therapy by providing medical support for the USMC Turkey Trots, Seattle Marathons, Mountain to Sound Relays, regional figure skating competitions and the US Figure Skating National Championships. After moving back to the Midwest, she worked as a contract therapist in the greater Kansas City area and provided mentorship to fellow therapists. Her practice settings included acute care, inpatient rehab, home health, SNF, LTAC, and outpatient ortho and neuro facilities. Later, she worked for six years in a hospital outpatient department treating a variety of orthopedic, chronic pain and neurological diagnoses. As a physical therapist, she has mentored both colleagues and students, authored facility policies, acted as a safety officer, performed as her department's Lead Therapist, attended national conferences such as NEXT and CSM, and presented health talks to the local community. She currently works as a physical therapist for Concentra Medical Center treating acute injuries of the work force.
